(for adults: to be distributed in research projects involving adult participants)

TITLE OF RESEARCH PROJECT:

AUDIENCE EFFECT AND MORAL DECISION MAKING

Dear Sir/Madam,
We kindly invite you to participate in our research project. You are entitled to be informed about the research project's objectives and characteristics so that you can freely and consciously decide whether to participate. We would therefore ask you to read the following information carefully. The research project team remain at your disposal to answer any questions you may have.

Data Controller
Università degli Studi di Milano	(supportodpo@unimi.it)
Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore	(dpo@unicatt.it)

Data Protection Officer
University Data Protection Officer	(dpo@unimi.it) dpo@unicatt.it

Research Project Supervisor
Francesco Guala	Tel. 02/50312740; email francesco.guala@unimi.it
Francesco Bogliacino	Tel. 02/72342797; email francesco.bogliacino@unicatt.it

What is the objective of the research project?
The general aim of this research project is to study individual decision-making mechanisms regarding the allocation of monetary resources.

How will the research project be carried out?
The research project involves participants making simple decisions that could lead to earning small amounts of money and/or allocating money to other participants. During the experiment, you may be asked to evaluate the appropriateness of decisions made by other participants or to have your own choices evaluated by others.

Why are we inviting you to participate?
Approximately 500 adults of both genders and varying ages will participate in this research project. There are no specific requirements for inclusion in the study.

Is your participation in the research project mandatory?

Your participation is entirely voluntary; declining to participate will not result in any negative consequences. Furthermore, should you change your mind and wish to withdraw, you are free to do so at any time without providing an explanation.

In the event of withdrawal, the data previously collected will be destroyed, unless they have already been processed for the purposes of the research project and it is no longer possible to identify—even indirectly—the information relating to you.

What steps are necessary to participate in the research project?
Before participating in the research project, you will be fully informed about the project's characteristics, as well as its risks and benefits. Once informed, you will be able to sign the consent form in which you agree to participate in the research project. You will not be able to actively participate in the research project until you have given your consent in writing.

What will be asked of you?

The research project involves observing decisions made independently by numerous participants across several experimental sessions.

The total duration of the research project will be approximately six months.
Your involvement in the research project will take about 20 minutes. Specifically, you will be asked to read the instructions carefully and make the choice you consider best, given the conditions described in the experimental instructions.

How will your personal data be processed?
All information concerning the processing of your personal data (including special data categories) is contained in the privacy notice pursuant to article 13 of Regulation (EU) 2016/679 (GDPR), which is attached to this information sheet.

What are the possible risks and inconveniences of participating in the research project?
There are no known risks connected with your participation in the research project.

What are the possible benefits of the research project?
The research project entails direct remuneration for the participant in the form of a small sum of money.

Other important information

We wish to inform you that this research project is funded by the Italian Ministry of University and Research (MUR).

We also wish to inform you that this research project has been approved by the Ethics Committee of the University of Milan.

Throughout the research project, you may contact the person in charge of the project for any information.

We thank you for your cooperation

PRIVACY NOTICE ON THE PROCESSING OF PERSONAL DATA WITHIN THE RESEARCH PROJECT (pursuant to EU Regulation 2016/679)

Introduction

Dear Sir/Madam,
Pursuant to article 13 of Regulation (EU) 2016/679 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC ("GDPR"), the University of Milan and the Catholic University hereby inform you on the processing of your personal data within the research project Audience Effect and Moral Decision-making (Principal Investigator – PI or Research Project Supervisor: prof. Francesco Guala e prof. Francesco Bogliacino)

1. Data Controller and Data Protection Officer (DPO)

The Data Controller is the University of Milan, represented by the Rector pro tempore (Via Festa del Perdono 7, 20122 Milan, email address: supportodpo@unimi.it), together with the Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore, represented by the Rector pro tempore (Largo Gemelli 1, 20123 Milano, e-mail: dpo@unicatt.it.)
Pursuant to articles 37 et seq. of Regulation (EU) 2016/679, the University of Milan has appointed Pierluigi Perri (c/o Department "Cesare Beccaria", Via Festa del Perdono 3, 20122 Milan, email address: dpo@unimi.it) as Data Protection Officer (DPO); the Università Cattolica has appointed Ferdinando Zanatti, c/o Vice Direzione Generale, Largo Gemelli 1, 20123 Milano, e-mail: dpo@unicatt.it.

2. Processed data, purposes and legal basis for data processing

For the purposes of this research project, and strictly to the extent necessary to achieve the project's objectives, as explained in the information sheet, the research team has to process (*) certain personal data () and special categories of personal data () concerning you. These are:

gender, age, Prolific identifying code, behavioural data concerning monetary allocations.

The legal basis for processing is the subject's consent to the processing of his or her personal data, in compliance with point (a) of article 6(1) of the GDPR and, with exclusive regard to the special categories of data, point (a) of article 9(2) of the GDPR. If you do not give your consent, you will not be able to participate in the research project.
You can withdraw your consent to the processing of your personal data at any time, by sending an email to dpo@unimi.it, or to the project's Principal Investigator. In this case, you will not be able to further participate in the project. However, withdrawing consent will not affect the lawfulness of any processing carried out before you withdraw your consent, and the results of this processing may be used (if so deemed appropriate) within the project.
Provided that you give your consent, the University may only use your identification data and contact details to contact you again for other research studies that are similar or otherwise related to this project.

3. Processing methods and storage of personal data

Data are collected in accordance with the principles of relevance, completeness and limitation to what is necessary in relation to the purposes for which they are processed.
Collected data are processed in accordance with the principles of lawfulness, fairness and transparency established in article 5 of the GDPR, also by using ICT tools to store and manage said data, and in any case in such a manner to guarantee data security and confidentiality.

Data will be processed and stored in pseudonymised form (*). Pseudonymisation ensures that only members of the research team have access to the subject's identity.

Data will be stored for 5 years, at the University of Milan and at Catholic University.

If you give your consent to be contacted by the University for further research studies (similar or related to this project), your identification data and contact details will be stored until you withdraw your consent.

4. Parties authorised to process data and to whom data may be disclosed

Personal data will be processed by the project's Principal Investigator (PI) and research team, led by Francesco Guala and Francesco Bogliacino

Data will not be transferred to a third country or to an international organisation.

Data will be published on academic journals and/or presented at conferences only in anonymised and aggregated form.

Personal data will not be transferred to third parties, neither during nor after the research project.

5. Rights of the data subject

Pursuant to articles 15 to 22 of the GDPR, you can exercise your right to request from the Controller access to and rectification or erasure of your personal data, restriction of processing, as well as data portability, by writing to the Data Protection Officer (Via Festa del Perdono 7, 20122 Milan – email address: dpo@unimi.it).

6. Right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority or a law court

If you believe that personal data relating to you have been processed in breach of the GDPR, you are entitled to lodge a complaint with the Italian Data Protection Authority, as contemplated by article 77 of the GDPR, or to take the case before the competent courts, pursuant to art. 79 of the GDPR.

DEFINITIONS:

() "Processing" means any operation or set of operations which is performed on personal data or on sets of personal data, whether or not by automated means, such as collection, recording, organisation, structuring, storage, adaptation or alteration, retrieval, consultation, use, disclosure by transmission, dissemination or otherwise making available, alignment or combination, restriction, erasure or destruction.*

() "Personal data" means any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person; an identifiable natural person is one who can be identified, directly or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, an identification number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that natural person.

() "Special categories of personal data" include personal data revealing racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, or trade union membership, genetic data, biometric data for the purpose of uniquely identifying a natural person, data concerning health or data concerning a natural person's sex life or sexual orientation.

() "Pseudonymisation" means the processing of personal data in such a manner that the personal data can no longer be attributed to a specific data subject without the use of additional information, provided that such additional information is kept separately and is subject to technical and organisational measures to ensure that the personal data are not attributed to an identified or identifiable natural person.*

()"Profiling" means any form of automated processing of personal data consisting of the use of personal data to evaluate certain personal aspects relating to a natural person, in particular to analyse or predict aspects concerning that natural person's performance at work, economic situation, health, personal preferences, interests, reliability, behaviour, location or movements.
